

Statement by the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia

---

9 August 2011

Updated website launched today: easier navigation and search

The Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia, in partnership with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) and the nine other boards in the National Scheme, has updated its website to make it easier to navigate and find important information.

The Board's website, at www.nursingmidwiferyboard.gov.au, features clearer menus and intuitive architecture, better access to online services and more information tailored to the nursing and midwifery professions. The new site also includes information about the National Scheme and links to AHPRA.

Over the next few weeks the Board will continue to make improvements to the site. If during this time you have difficulties finding specific information, please submit an online enquiry form from the AHPRA website, choosing 'web content issues' as the category.
